7. Stand Personnel, Exhibits and Direct Sales

Stands must display exhibits and be occupied by staff throughout the opening hours of the event. The Exhibitor shall ensure that the stand personnel have a special knowledge of the exhibited goods. The display of products other than those listed by the inflammable, explosive, strongly odorous, dangerous goods, or goods whose demonstration involves noise may only be exhibited when permission has previously been given by the Organizer. The exhibition of any goods or services at the exhibition stands that violate Turkish Laws and Regulations is strictly forbidden.

The Organizer is entitled to have exhibits removed from the stand if their display runs counter to the principles of fair competition or does not accord with the range of exhibits for the event.

Details of price and references to suppliers, customers and sales already affected of the product types on display are prohibited.

Sales by handing over a product or receiving money for a product (direct sales) are not permitted during the fair. The same applies to services for which a charge is made. Any possible exceptions to this rule are given in the specific conditions for each event.

The Exhibitor is entitled to conduct interviews only on his own stand.

8. Transports, Setting-Up and Dismantling of Exhibits and Stand Design

The transport of the exhibition goods to the exhibition stand and back, the storage of empty packing materials, the use of lifting and transport equipment, the employment of personnel for packing and unpacking, the setting-up of the exhibition goods and their dismantling, the repackaging and other activities in this context shall be the concern and at the costs of the Exhibitor exclusively. It will be selected by tender and appointed by the organizer. The freight forwarder has to state the prices, and terms and conditions for its services before the show.

Delivery of the exhibition goods and stand materials can only be done during the pre-determined and announced set-up dates and hours. The Organizer by any means cannot be designated as the recipient of the exhibition goods and stand materials. The Exhibitor must arrange the delivery of their exhibition goods and stand materials to the fair ground with the freight-forwarding agency so that there are assigned staff of the Exhibitor at the arrival time of the goods and materials. Very important to note that, unless the Exhibitor designates their own local branches or representatives, the official freight-forwarding agency must be designated as the recipient of the goods and materials during the customs clearance.

9. Customs Guarantee Declaration

In case that instead of the necessary assurance, a re-export guarantee declaration for the import of exhibition goods is given by the embassy of the country of origin of the Exhibitor, the Exhibitor is directly liable to his embassy if the exhibition goods are either not exported, not exported in time, or not entirely exported after the closing of the event.

10. Additional Companies Represented

The sharing of a stand area by several companies is only permissible if the application documents for the event explicitly attach an approval of co-exhibitors or indirectly represented companies. Sharing a stand area with another company requires a special application by the Exhibitor in conformance with the attached application forms. The following must be registered:

- Co-exhibitors, i.e. those companies which are represented with their own display goods and personnel alongside the Exhibitor on the stand area rented by the Exhibitor or the organizer of a joint participation.

- Indirectly represented companies, i.e. those companies which are not exhibitors, but which are represented through the Exhibitor with their own display goods and not solely by brochures or similar publications.

Where appropriate these Specific and General Terms and Conditions for Participation apply to these companies as well. The Exhibitor must inform these companies about the Specific and General Terms and Conditions and any supplementary conditions.

If an exhibitor fails to register co-exhibitors and indirectly represented companies or gives incomplete or incorrect information in his application, the Organizer may terminate the contract and forbid the Exhibitor from participation. Even so, the main Exhibitor is still liable for the full payment of the stand rental and other fees. Should several companies wish to rent a stand jointly, they are required to name one person as a joint representative in their application. Moreover, each of the Exhibitors is obliged to send samples to the stand and staff with its own personnel.

If a third party is employed to set up the exhibition stand or otherwise used to organize the Exhibitor's participation at the trade fair, the Exhibitor can authorize this company, by indicating the representative's address in writing, to order legally binding services or to submit declarations connected with the participation at the trade fair for the Exhibitor, as well as for any co-exhibitors and indirectly represented companies. All further documents related to the event (stand confirmation, service manual, technical regulations, etc.) will be sent to this named, authorized company, which will process them for the Exhibitor.

11. Terms of Payment

The time of payment stated in Number 4 of the General Terms and Conditions for Participation must be adhered to. Advance payment of the full invoice amount is a precondition for use of the allocated stand area, for entry in the catalogue and for the issuing of exhibitor cards. All invoices must be paid without any deduction in Euro. Payment must be made by transfer to the bank account stated in the application form and in the invoice. The Organizer reserves the right to charge default interest of 2% per month on delayed payments.

The Exhibitor renounces the right to offset counterclaims against participation fees payable, costs for supplementary services and other claims resulting from the contractual relationship unless the counterclaims are undisputed or have been confirmed by the Organizer and its court of law.

If the Exhibitor fails to meet his financial obligations, the Organizer is entitled to retain exhibits and the stand equipment and to sell them by public auction or by private contract at the expense of the Exhibitor. The statutory provisions on realization of objects seized are set aside insofar as this is legally permissible.

During the event, the invoice for additional services (e.g. additional booth equipment, electricity, water and telephone installation and consumption) will be submitted to the Exhibitor. In case of advance payment for services, the paid amount will be set off against the amount due. The Exhibitor has no claim to interest payable on the advance deposit.

The Exhibitor, co-exhibitor and indirectly represented companies are jointly and severally liable to the Organizer with regard to obligations arising from the rental contract or from orders placed for services.

A special application by the Exhibitor, who must specifically request the appropriate form, makes it possible to invoice a third party with regard to the participation fees and the costs for services. The application takes effect only when it has been signed by the Exhibitor and the named recipient of the invoice so as to be legally binding and is submitted to the Organizer at the latest by the submission date given on the form.

12. Reservations

All services are provided within the limits imposed by the facilities available. Given serious cause (e.g. industrial action, acts of God, any disaster beyond control, war, riots, shortage/interruption of traffic and/or communication services), the organizer is entitled to postpone the exhibition, curtail it, close it temporarily in whole or in part, or cancel it. In the event of complete or partial postponement or of curtailment, the contract is regarded as valid for the new date and the new duration unless the Exhibitor objects in writing within a period of 2 weeks after notification of the alteration. There will be no reduction of the contractual prices and the regulations given in § 12 of these General Terms and Conditions for Participation apply.

13. Exemption from Liability

The Organizer does not undertake to safeguard exhibits or stand equipment and excludes, also for its staff, all liability for damage to these, except in cases of intent or gross negligence. This exemption from liability also applies if stand equipment or exhibits are seized and stored by the Organizer. This exemption from liability is in no way impaired by the special security measures taken by the Organizer.

The Organizer moreover excludes any claim for a reduction in rent as well as all liability for disadvantages and damages suffered by the Exhibitor as the result of defects in the rented object, erroneous information given in connection with the allocation of space, stand construction or stand design approval, or catalogue entries, and also through changes in stand size or other deficiencies in the service provided unless the Exhibitor immediately complains in writing, except in the event of intent or gross negligence on the part of the Organizer's staff.

14. Premature Termination of the Rental Contract

If after binding application or after conclusion of the contract the Organizer agrees in exceptional cases to a complete or partial withdrawal from the contract, the Exhibitor is liable for 100% of the space rental and 200, - Euro of registration fee, if the stand was not being sold to a third party for a fee. If the re-letting of the stand takes place, then the canceling Exhibitor is liable for 50% of the rental space and 200, - Euro registration fee.

All of the cancellation refunds will be made after the fair is completed. Any bank charges and other fees associated with these refunds will be handled by the Exhibitor.

A case of re-letting is not constituted if, for optical reasons, the area not used by the Exhibitor is allocated to another exhibitor without the Organizer deriving further proceeds from re-letting the area previously occupied by the Company displayed. Nor can a space be considered re-let if unoccupied stand space is still available in the relevant exhibitor group or the Organizer as a result of the cancellation has to replan the stand area given back and the adjoining stand areas.

Without relinquishing any further claims, the Organizer is entitled to withdraw from or to revoke the rental contract - even long-term ones - without notice if the Exhibitor fails, even after a reasonable period of grace, to meet obligations arising from the rental contract, the Specific and General Terms and Conditions for Participation or any supplementary regulations. This also applies in the event that the conditions on which the contract was concluded do not apply or no longer apply, in particular if the Exhibitor has so altered his manufacturing program that his products can no longer be assigned to the trade fair for which he has rented stand space.

The same applies if the Exhibitor suspends payment or becomes involved in composition or bankruptcy proceedings, or if the Exhibitor company is in the process of liquidation. The Exhibitor shall be obliged to inform the Organizer of such proceedings immediately. If the Organizer becomes aware of the facts, it is entitled to withdrawal or immediate termination of the contract and to compensation amounting to 50% of the net basic rent including surcharges.

15. Supplementary Provisions

Constituent parts of the rental contract are the Regulations for the Exhibition Grounds, the list of goods (nomenclature), and the organizational, technical and other rules (exhibitor service manual). The exhibitor service manual is an inseparable part for participation terms and conditions. In particular, the conditions listed in the exhibitor service manual apply, which stipulate specific services as obligatory in connection with the event (e.g. entry in the catalogue, exhibitor identity cards).

16. Claims, Procedure, Place of Performance and Place of Jurisdiction

This contract is governed exclusively by Turkish law; the Turkish version of the Turkish law is authoritative. Consequently, the rights and obligations of the contracting parties are solely subject to the law of the Republic of Turkey. Place of performance and jurisdiction is Istanbul. The Turkish Republic Istanbul Courts and Istanbul Execution Offices have jurisdiction over disputes arising from this contract.

Mutual agreements between the two contracting parties, which deviate from these Specific and General Terms and Conditions or from any supplementary regulations, must be in writing; facsimile signatures suffice.

If a stipulation of this contract is or become invalid, the other stipulations shall not be affected by this invalidity.

All claims by the Exhibitor against the Organizer must be lodged in writing. The period of limitation is 6 months starting from the closure of the event.

17. Notification Procedure

The exhibitor's address which is stated on the front page, will be used as the notification address in case of the disputes arising from this contract. In case of a change in this address, the exhibitor should notify in writing to the organizers 1 week after the change took place. All consequences resulting from incorrect or delayed submission of contact details or the failure to submit exhibitor contact details at all, shall be borne by the exhibitor.

THIS FAIR IS ORGANIZED WITH THE PERMISSION OF THE UNION OF CHAMBERS AND COMMODITY EXCHANGES OF TURKEY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW NUMBER 5174
